OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL
SANTA FE

1 October 1967

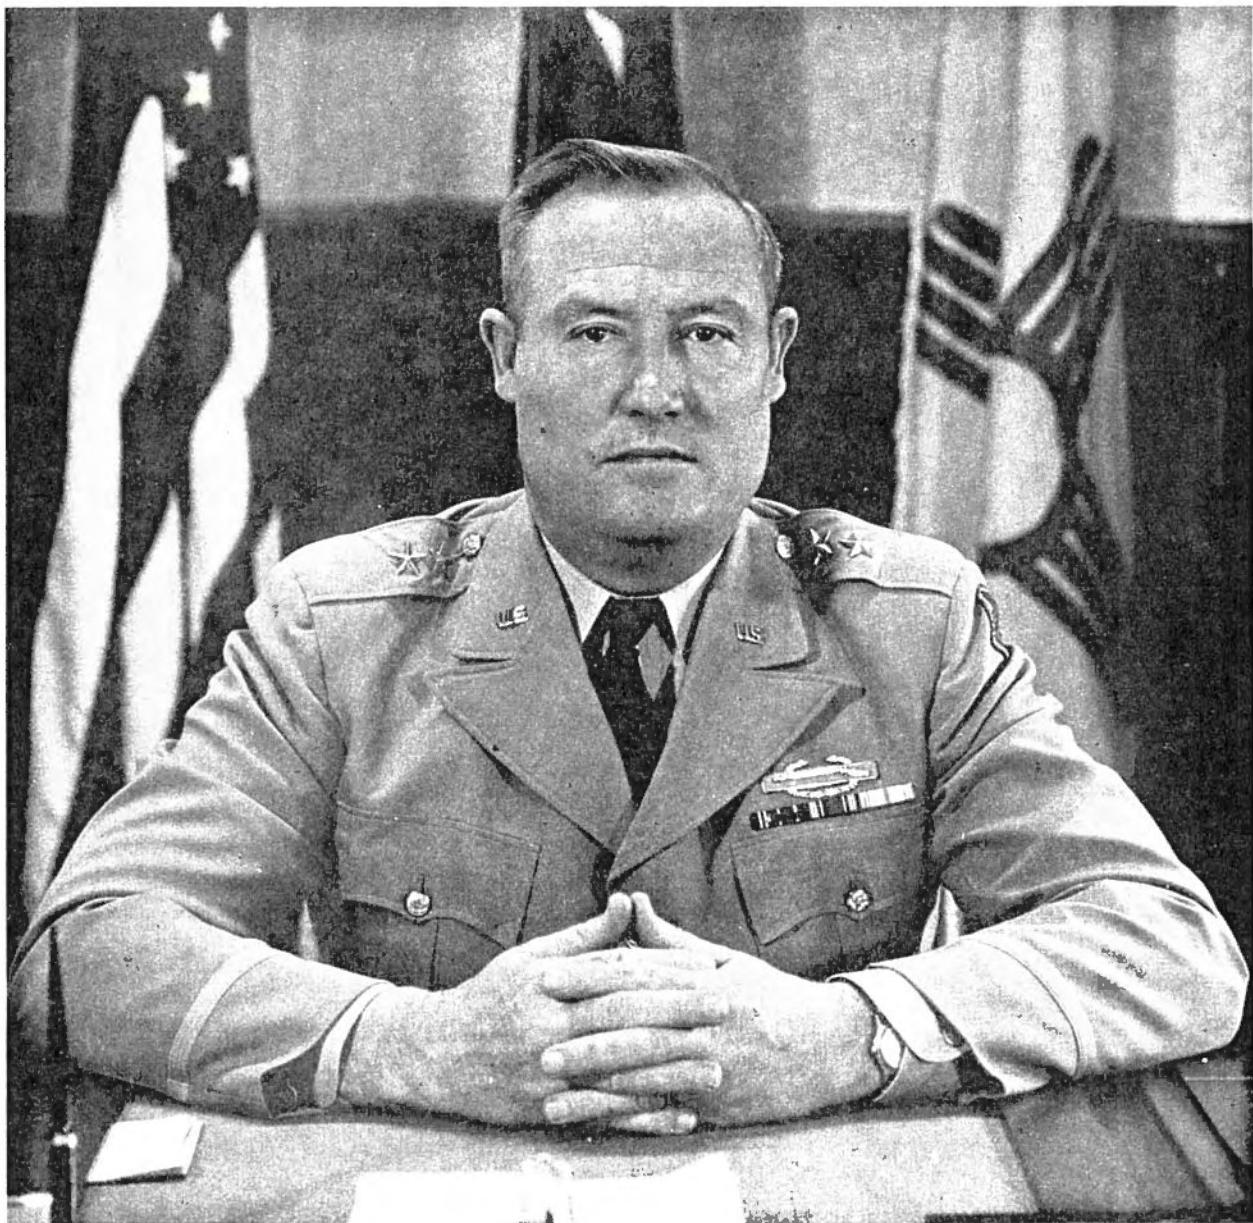

Honorable David F. Cargo
Governor of New Mexico and Commander-in-Chief
New Mexico National Guard
Santa Fe, New Mexico

Sir:

Submitted herewith is the Report of the Adjutant General of New Mexico for Fiscal Year 1965, 1966, and 1967.

To perform its State mission in the protection of life and property and to preserve peace and order, the New Mexico National Guard realizes its responsibility to maintain an efficient, well trained, well equipped force, ready for use by the State in any emergency that might arise.

Our training objectives are being reached, and an increasing number of our units are being rated as Excellent and Superior. The New Mexico National Guard continues to take full advantage of the educational opportunities offered by the Army and Air Force by filling its quotas to the technical and service schools operated by those agencies. Guardsmen volunteering for six months basic training continues to be a source of basically trained personnel for our Army National Guard units. The basic training given by the Air Force also increase the efficiency of our Air National Guard.

Major General John P. Jolly
The Adjutant General of New Mexico

POLICIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY AND DEPARTMENT
OF THE AIR FORCE RELATING TO THE NATIONAL GUARD

DEFINITION:

The National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States are integral parts and first line reserve components of the Army of the United States and the United States Air Force. The National Guard of the States and Territories continues to exist and, in time of national emergency, may be called or ordered into the Army of the United States and the United States Air Force through its National Guard of the United States status. All Federally recognized units and elements of the Active National Guard and the personnel of the Inactive National Guard of the several States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, together, constitute the National Guard of the United States.

MISSION:

The Mission of the National Guard of the United States and the policy relative to its employment are set forth in the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 (Public Law 476, 82nd Congress) as follows:

"Sec 201. (a) The Congress hereby declares that the reserve components of the Armed Forces of the United States are maintained for the purpose of providing trained units and qualified individuals to be available for active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States in time of war or national emergency, and at such other times as the national security may require, to meet the requirements of the Armed Forces of the United States in excess of those of the regular components thereof, during and after the period needed for procurement and training of additional trained units and qualified individuals to achieve the planned mobilization."

This law specifically defined and further clarified dictates that the mission of the National Guard of the United States is to provide a reserve component of the Army of the United States and the United States Air Force capable of immediate expansion to war strength, able to furnish units fit for service anywhere in the world, trained and equipped to: 1. Defend critical areas of the United States against land, seaborne or airborne invasion. 2. Assist in covering the mobilization and concentration of the remainder of the reserve forces. 3. Participate by units in all types of operations, including the offensive, either in the United States or overseas.

2. Provide training and storage facilities, except as contributed to by the Federal Government.

3. To train officers, warrant officers, and enlisted personnel of the National Guard, Army and Air.

4. To properly account for and maintain all Federal property and funds.

Advisors.

Under policies of the Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force, selection and assignment of qualified advisors is reserved as a function of Headquarters, Department of the Army and Headquarters, Department of the Air Force with the several States having the right of rejection. The supervision of the training responsibility of the advisors is vested in the Commanding General, Continental Army Command and Chief of Reserve Forces, Headquarters, United States Air Force. Personnel on duty as advisors with the National Guard have no command status with troops or units of the National Guard. The primary duty of advisors will be to advise and assist responsible commanders in the attainment and maintenance of that state of efficiency of the National Guard units as is prescribed by Headquarters, Department of the Army and Headquarters, Department of the Air Force.

The National Guard Bureau is charged with:

1. Administering approved joint Army and Air Force policies, other than those relative to training, when such policies are applicable to both the Army National Guard not in the Federal service and the Air National Guard not in the Federal service and with promulgating joint Army-Air Force directives applicable to both the Army and Air National Guard, including those relating to training.

2. Functioning as the channel of communication between the Departments of the Army and Air Force and the State on all matters pertaining to the Army and Air National Guard.

3. Maintaining an office of record for all Department of the Army and Air Force records pertaining to the Army and Air National Guard not in the Federal Service.

National Guard Policy Making.

All policies affecting the National Guard are prepared by the General Staff Committee on National Guard Policy (known as the "Section Five Committee") for action by the Secretary of the Army and Secretary of the Air Force under normal Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force procedure. All regulations to carry such policies into effect are reviewed by this committee.

To insure proper understanding of the new procedures, two four day schools were conducted in Santa Fe during February 1966. The first school was on unit supply procedures and was attended by Staff Assistants, Administrative Specialists and Administrative Supply Technicians from all Army National Guard units in the State. PART I - MISSION, DUTIES AND ACTIONS

The Personnel and Administrative Division is charged with the responsibility of providing administrative and operational services for the Adjutant General in connection with the assignment, promotion, appointment, enlistment, transfer, and separation of all personnel, officer and enlisted, of the Army National Guard, to include processing and maintenance of all records of such personnel. Custody and maintenance of records includes all records dating back to the Territorial Militia of 1860. The Division performs administrative services and records for the following:

j. Enlisted 201 files processed and filed and/or forwarded - 2343

Personnel policies, procedures, and regulations are reviewed and published in concise AGONM Regulations to better enable all units to conform to policies established by the National Guard Bureau and the Department of the Army.

Disposition of records has been established by an AGONM Regulation for all units of the New Mexico Army National Guard. The Office of the Adjutant General is the receiving depot for storage. After screening, some records are stored in State Records Center.

The Adjutant General of New Mexico utilizes the routine military orders system for issuing directives and instructions to units, commanders, and individuals of the New Mexico Army National Guard, and in connection with the operation of the Adjutant General's Department. These orders are published according to the style and format utilized by the U. S. Army and the Department has adopted the appropriate regulations of that service for guidance. The personnel division receives requests for, processes, publishes, consolidates and distributes these written orders.

The Reserve Enlistment Program (REP 63 Six Months Active Duty) continues to be the most important phase of training for new recruits. This program requires each non-prior service man enlisted in the New Mexico Army National Guard to attend a period of active duty with the Regular Army, usually about 6 months. Due to lack of input spaces for this program from the Regular Army, the New Mexico Army National Guard had a backlog of 704 enlisted men waiting to go to training on 30 June 1966. Through coordinated efforts with 4th U. S. Army and the National Guard Bureau, 1068 enlisted men were sent to REP 63 training in Calendar Year 1966, and 495 men have entered training since 1 January 1967.

PART II - PUBLICATIONS AND REPRODUCTION SECTION

The Publications and Reproduction Section received from federal, state, and commercial sources approximately 15 tons of publications, blank forms and other material pertaining to the administration and training of the New Mexico Army National Guard. This material was distributed as indicated below:

1975 boxes federal publications, for initial distribution to units by separate forms. (Forwarded to units by small breakdown)

360 boxes Federal publications for replenishment requisition of blank forms (forwarded to units on call).

On 1 January 1964, publications and reproduction were separated upon occupation of the new Headquarters Complex. Mail pickup and distribution was added to the Reproduction Section and operation is being very capably handled by three personnel. The publications section is now operated by one Federal employee.

PART I - ORGANIZATION OF SECTION

The Military Support for Civil Defense Section was activated in January 1965 for the purpose of coordinating all military activities in the State of New Mexico to support Civil Defense in the event of nuclear war.

The Section is manned by three full time technicians, a Lieutenant Colonel, the Plans Officer, a Major, the Operations and Training Officer, and a Chief Warrant Officer, Administration and Communications Specialist.

These three positions are paid from Federal funds, supervised by the State Adjutant General.

PART II - OPERATIONS AND DISASTER FUNCTIONS

Chief mission of the section is to write plans, coordinate training, and make liaison visits with military units, for the support of Civil Defense.

A complete operations plan for the support of Civil Defense has been written, distributed to all military units in the State of New Mexico, has had portions tested, and is continually being updated to make it current.

Liaison visits have been made by members of the section to all military units in the State who are listed as members of the Military Support mission.

An operations room, complete with emergency telephone service, emergency power, communications systems, and operational procedures has been established to be used either for nuclear or natural disaster. The section trains other National Guardsmen to use all of this equipment and procedures to support the State Office of Civil Defense.

As an additional assignment the Adjutant General has made the Military Support Section responsible for the writing of plans for Natural Disaster and Civil Disturbance.

The section has coordinated actions and supported operations in the following emergencies:

17-19 Jun 1965 Flood in Colfax, San Miguel and Lincoln Counties

19 Jun 1965 Lost Citizen at Springer

22 Aug 1965 Flood in Las Cruces

30 Dec 1965 Emergency Delivery of Whole Blood to Clayton

PART III - TRAINING

The Military Support Section has trained 185 radiological monitor operators, had two area service schools to teach radiological defense personnel, and has trained monitors in the Santa Fe Police Department and the New Mexico State Penitentiary.

Classes have also been conducted in Civil Disturbance, Fire Fighting, and Natural Disaster procedures for National Guard men and units.

The sections work closely with the University of New Mexico to acquaint citizens in New Mexico with the need for disaster planning.

PART I - OBJECTIVES

The objective of the New Mexico Air National Guard is to recruit, equip, and train individuals and units to be available for active duty in the United States Air Force in the time of national emergency and at other times national security may require.

The New Mexico Air National Guard changed gaining Major Commands on 1 July 1964. At that time it went from Air Defense Command to Tactical Air Command. This also resulted in an aircraft change. The change was from the F-100A Day Fighter to the F-100C All-Weather Fighter. Our "A" models were transferred to other units or to the Air Force's boneyard as we received the "C" models. The new aircraft have facilities for external armament and air-to air refueling.

All new training objectives were set up for pilot personnel; strafing, rocketry, dive-bombing, air-to-air refueling, low level navigation, tactical reconnaissance and our old stand-by, air-to-air gunnery, became daily routines in a matter of months. The number of "combat ready" pilots and the "C" rating of the unit are now all important.

PART II - FEDERAL RECOGNITION AND ORGANIZATION

The New Mexico Air National Guard was federally recognized on 7 July 1947 as a Fighter-Bomber Squadron and was equipped with F-51 Mustangs. Our authorization was converted from a Squadron to a Group in July 1960. There have been subsequent reorganizations and now the 150th Tactical Fighter Group, New Mexico Air National Guard is authorized 822 officers and airmen. The Group consists of 7 units.

They are: Hqs, 150th Tactical Fighter Group,
Lt Col Fred J. Fink, Commander

188th Tactical Fighter Squadron,
Major James W. Van Scyoc, Commander

150th Consolidated Acft Maint Squadron,
Major Harleston W. Dozier, Commander

150th Combat Support Squadron,
Major Jack D. Abercrombie, Commander

150th Supply Squadron,
Major Charles B. Ocksrider, Commander

150th Tactical Dispensary,
Major Edward J. Gerety, Commander

150th Communications Flight (Spt),
Major Ralph L. Brown, Commander

The State Staff consists of 3 officers and 3 airmen and is commanded by Colonel Robert L. Sands.

PART III - UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ADVISORS

The mission of the regular Air Force Advisor personnel assigned for duty with the New Mexico Air National Guard is to advise and assist the Air National Guard in the attainment and maintenance of prescribed efficiency standards. This mission is presently being accomplished by the assignment of MSG Cuah temoc J. Valdiviez.

PART IV - ANNUAL INSPECTIONS

General Inspections of the 150th Tactical Fighter Group were conducted during the periods 25 February - 1 March 1965; 18 - 22 February 1966; and 17 - 21 March 1967 by the Inspector General, 12th Air Force, Waco, Texas. Results of the three inspections were Satisfactory. Possible ratings of the Air Guard are confined to either "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory."

This Group also underwent its first "no notice" Operational Readiness Inspection during the period 18-22 February 1966. This unit was the first Air National Guard organization to be given a no notice ORI. The 150th Tactical Fighter Group demonstrated a satisfactory capability to perform its mission, and the Inspector General concurred in the C-1 rating reported by this unit.

PART V - ANNUAL FIELD TRAINING

In 1965 the 150th Tactical Fighter Group conducted its annual field training at Volk Field, Wisconsin, during the period 5-19 June 1965. The 146th Air Transport Wing (California, Arizona, Utah) airlifted the unit and the Group experienced one of its most successful and rewarding field training periods in its entire history. No major problems were encountered.

The Group was airlifted to Volk Field, Wisconsin, on 18 June 1966 to conduct annual field training which ended 2 July 1966. Approximately 580 men were airlifted each way. Particular emphasis was placed on the OJT Program.

The 150th Tactical Fighter Group deployed to Volk Field, Wisconsin for its annual field training 3 to 17 June 1967. Approximately 638 officers and airmen were airlifted via commercial air. A convoy consisting of 16 vehicles, 1 officer and 31 Airmen were sent to Volk Field on 30 May 1967 to prepare the installation to receive the main body of troops on 3 June 1967. The remaining officers and airmen deployed via military air and by private conveyance. Main emphasis during this training period was on General Military Training, On-The-Job Training and on Flying Training.

PART VI - TRAINING

One hundred forty-two airmen were tested in 1966 with an overall passing rate of 87%. In calendar year 1967 220 airmen have been tested. 168 have passed, giving an SKT passing rate of 76%. Operational readiness of airmen and other than aircrews was 70.8% as of 30 June 1967.

PART VII - AIR TECHNICIANS

As of 30 June 1967, the work force of the New Mexico Air National Guard numbered:

177 Air Technicians
10 State Employees (Security, Maintenance and Janitorial)

PART VIII - GENERAL

The 150th Tactical Fighter Group continues to be in an increased readiness posture "C-1" rating under OPERATION BEEF BROTH.

Two members of the New Mexico Air National Guard were chosen to the National Guard All American Team as follows:

1/LT Allan W. Ness is a 27 year old Jet Fighter Pilot assigned to the 188th Tactical Fighter Squadron. Graduated second in his class at flight training school at Laughlin AFB, Texas in 1965 and was also Class Commander. In Advanced Flying Training Class, he was the Top Gun at Luke AFB, Arizona. He is considered a highly qualified tactical fighter pilot.

CMSG Earl W. Eckerson is a full-time Air Technician and NCOIC of the Armament and Electronics Section, 150th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron, NMANG. An expert in his field, Sergeant Eckerson has contributed unmeasurably to the field, both at the local and the national level. He has represented the National Guard Bureau at several Air-Force wide weapons meetings. On 13 March 1967, he was honored by the Albuquerque Chapter of the Air Force Association for outstanding contributions to Air Force/Aerospace knowledge and know-how.

These two men certainly typify Air Guardsmen everywhere.. Lt Ness and CMS Eckerson will be honored during the National Guard Association Convention in Washington, D. C., 17-21 September 1967.

Operation Red Baron. During the three months period of February, March and April 1967, the New Mexico Air National Guard was the leading state in the number of interviews conducted with a total of 34 prospective pilots.

PART IX - ASST USP&FO (FISCAL)

This report covers the period 1 July 1964 thru 30 June 1967 and includes significant data and illustrations of the Assistant USP&FO Air (Fiscal) functions.

Installation. The Assistant USP&FO Air (Fiscal) function was relocated from Area "H" Building 730, to Building 1056 during June 1965. The facility currently occupied is considered adequate in all respects.

Manning.

Air Technicians. Unchanged since last report. Total manning remains at six Air Technician positions authorized and filled.

Military. Authorization of personnel and functional areas remain unchanged since last report, however, as of date of this report, assignment of both officers and airmen is at 100%.

Air Technician Training. Formal training involved for period of this report was IBM 407 Accounting Machine course attended by the Comptroller and Data Processing Supervisor concurrent with changeover to 407 Accounting Machine. The Data Processing Machine Supervisor and Key Punch Operator completed formal training at Albuquerque TVI (on their own time) on Data Processing. The Comptroller completed formal course in 1401 Computer Operation at Sandia Base.

Mechanization. Change from 402 to 407 IBM Accounting Machine was effected on 7 November 1965 with no interruption to normal operation. 087 alphabetic collator was acquired at the same time. An additional 026 IBM Key Punch Machine was acquired on 25 May 1965 and is currently located in the Personnel Function. A faster model sorter has been authorized and is on order. A computing unit (CAM) has been authorized for the 407 and is on order. Change to the 407 Accounting Machine and additional machines have given this function a much greater capability and this capability has been utilized to the greatest extent possible.

Expansion of existing programs has occurred during this period, however, no additional major functions have been converted since last report.

Audits and Inspections. One audit covering Technician and Military Pay was conducted by the USAF Resident Auditor, Kirtland AFB, during June 1965 and disclosed not one single discrepancy. A complete audit was conducted by the USAF Resident Auditor, Kirtland AFB, during December 1966 and January 1967. Two discrepancies were noted and corrected prior to the completion of the audit. The 1965 IG disclosed one deficiency in the assistant USP&FO Air (Fiscal) function which was immediately corrected. The deficiency involved some unsigned (by the initiating official) obligating documents which had been reported as valid obligations. In the Comptroller Function the IG was satisfactory for all areas except Management Analysis which was unmanned at the time. The 1966 IG of the Assistant USP&FO Air (Fiscal) function resulted in "No deficiencies." The Comptroller function was satisfactory in all functions. Another General Inspection was conducted during March 1967 by 12th Air Force. All Comptroller sections were satisfactory and no discrepancies were noted.

PART X - ASST USP&FO (CHIEF OF SUPPLY AND SERVICES)

This report is for the period of 1 July 1964 through 30 June 1967 and covers all areas of the supply operation of the New Mexico Air National Guard.

Facilities. The entire supply function was relocated into a new building in May, 1965. The warehouse space available to us is sufficient to store everything that requires covered storage. The fact that Data Processing is co-located with us is a great convenience and time-saver. We are also close to the flight line and maintenance hangar which facilitates delivery of high priority spares to the aircraft.

Manning.

Air Technicians. During this period, we have been authorized 26 air technicians with 24 on hand as of 30 June 1967. We have not been able to fill every position due to manning and financial limitations imposed by the National Guard Bureau. The number of positions authorized are sufficient to take care of the workload.

Military. On 1 July 1965, the 150th Supply Squadron was formed with a total authorization of 108 officers and airmen. As of 30 June 1967, it was 100 percent manned and is commanded by Major Charles B. Ocksrider. During 1967, the operational ready status of this unit increased from 65 percent to 80%. This is due to the large number of airmen who upgraded their skill level during the year. As an example, 35 percent of the airmen in the unit were tested during the last six months of FY 1967 and 80% passed.

Inventory Management. We had 7200 active stock record cards on hand as of 30 June 1967 with $464,415.00 worth of aircraft spares and ammunition on hand. This does not include spare engines which are accounted for separately. During the reporting period we had 158,253 supply transactions with the rest of the base and 22,564 requisitions were submitted to the various depots. This section is completely mechanized and all record-keeping is done with punch cards.

Transportation. During this reporting period we processed 1802 incoming shipments covered by Government Bills of Lading with a total weight of 1,490,034 pounds. We also received property via the Air Force Logair System and parcel post, but no record is maintained. We processed 659 outgoing shipments covered by Government Bills of Lading with a total weight of 753,171 pounds. We also utilize Logair and parcel post for outgoing shipments, but again no records are maintained. We have increased our utilization of the Logair System to the maximum extent and have received excellent support from the Air Freight people at Kirtland Air Force Base. There were 192 Transportation Requests prepared during the period, but no Meal Tickets.

Local Purchase. During FY 1965, 1966, and 1967, we processed purchase orders totaling $175,206.00. Of this total, $93,721.00 was spent locally and the balance went to out-of-state vendors. At the same time, we spent $60,087.00 on purchases using petty cash, all of which was spent in the Albuquerque area.

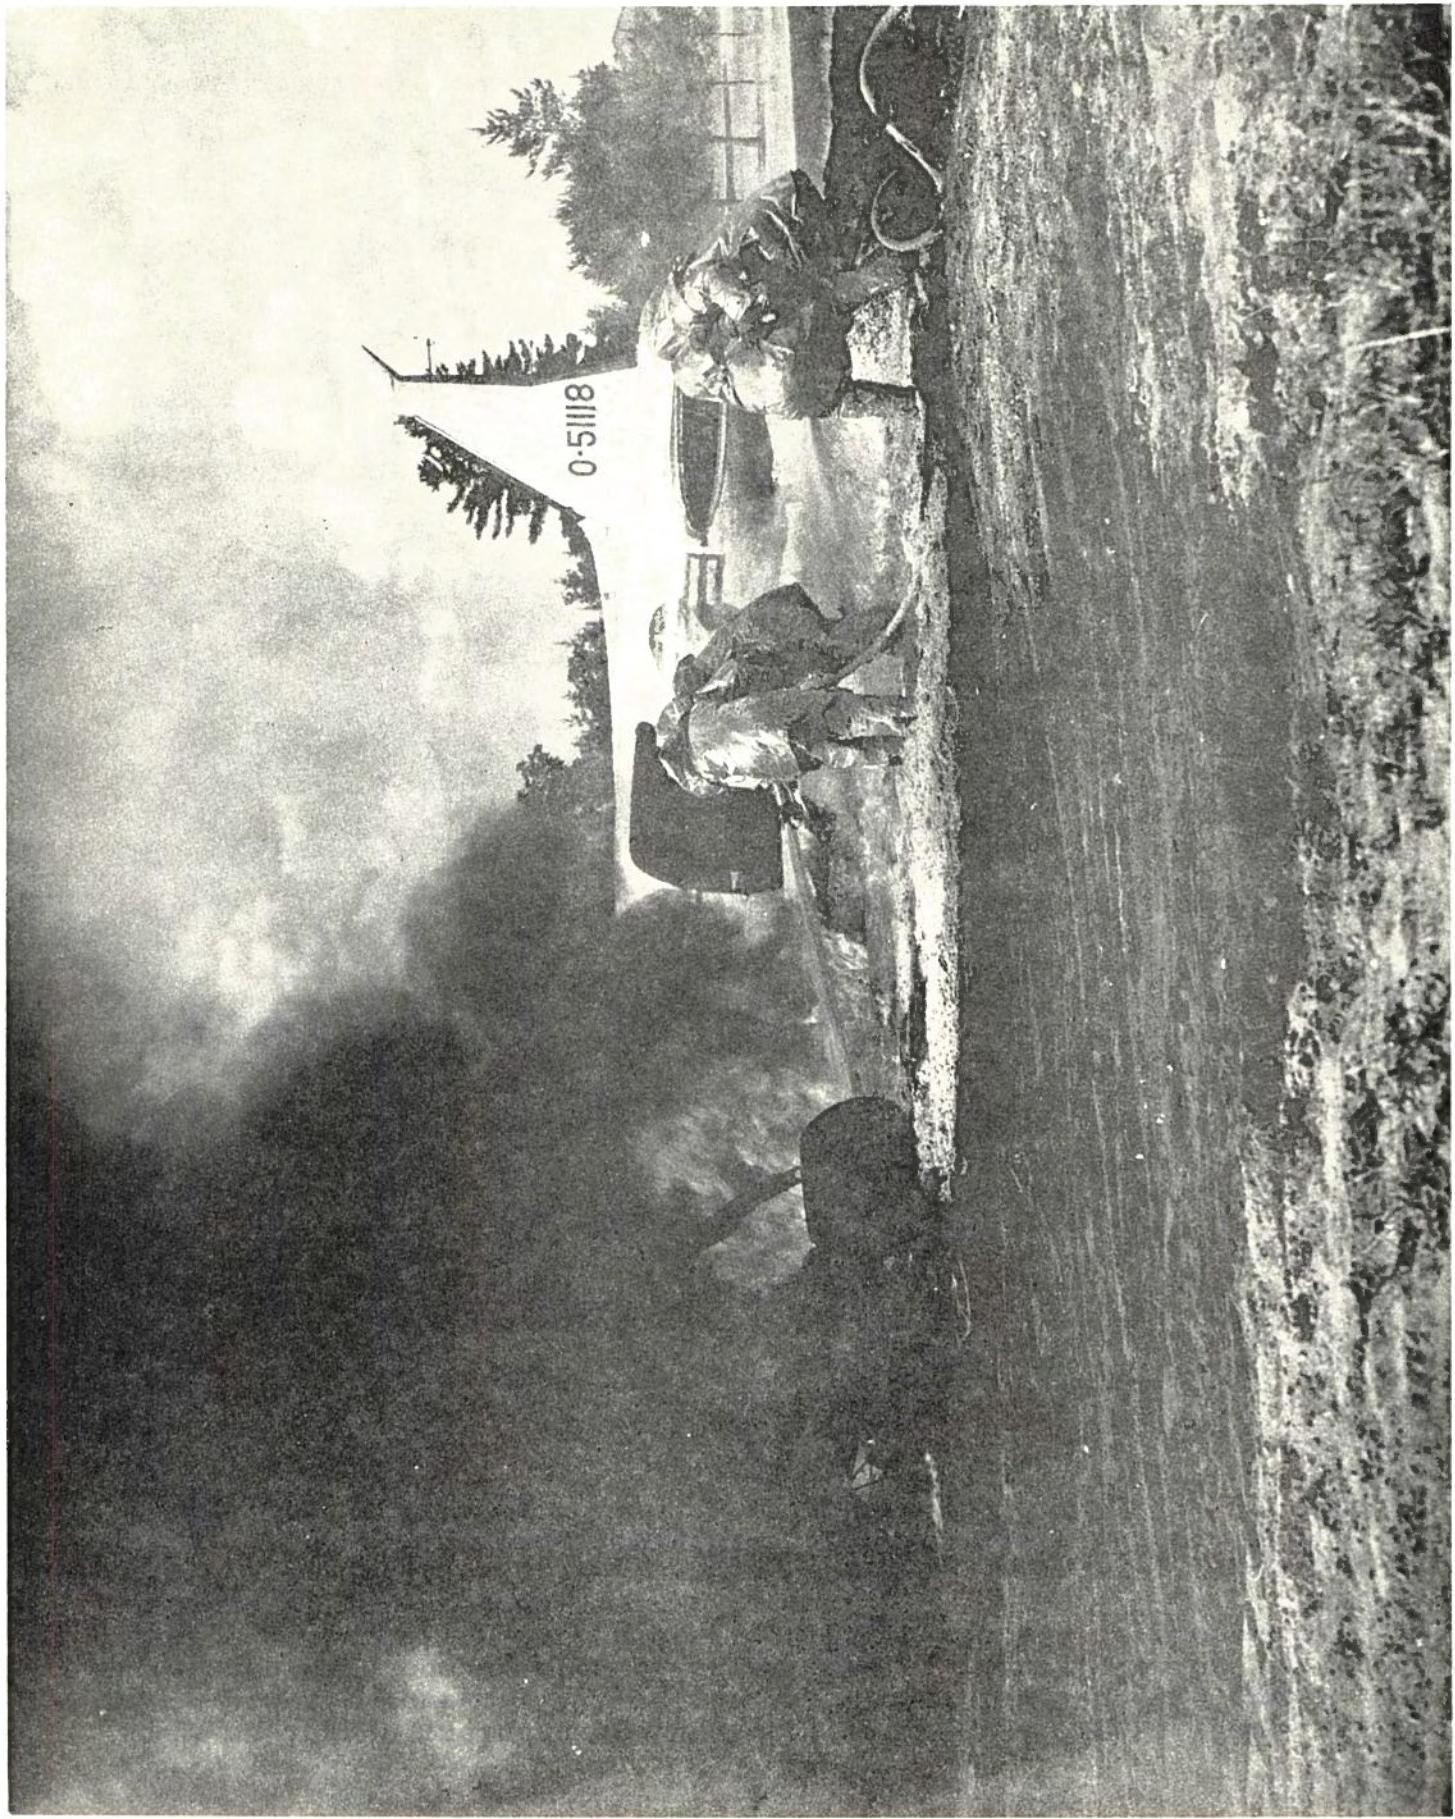

Base Equipment Management. As of 30 June 1967, we had 1634 line items of equipment including 61 vehicles on hand. This equipment is valued at $2,043,372.00 and does not include complete aircraft. This section also maintains informal records on equipment items costing less than $10.00. Clothing records for all personnel of the NMANG are maintained by the BEMO. Individual clothing is purchased as required from the Air Force Clothing Sales Store at Kirtland Air Force Base and no stock is maintained.

Mobility. We maintain a War Readiness Spares Kit (WRSK) which consists of enough aircraft spares to support the 188th TFS for 30 days during tactical operations. The list of items in this kit is reviewed annually and revised when required. We also have a requirement to maintain a stock of spare engines in a built-up configuration. A kit of field equipment and cold and wet weather clothing is maintained by the BEMO for each person assigned to a mobility position. Issue of these items is made only during an actual deployment or a mobility exercise. The BEMO also stores all weapons on the base with the exception of those issued to the Air Police.

Maintenance Support. This section has the responsibility for the direct support of the maintenance activities. They provide delivery and pick-up to all sections of the maintenance complex. In addition, this section maintains 1,437 line items of bench stock at fourteen different locations. Because of an increased maintenance repair capability and through closer coordination with all sections of maintenance, we were able to maintain an average NORS rate of one percent during the period; at the same time, we were able to reduce the inventory of aircraft spares from $1,500,374.00 on 30 June 1965 to $464,415.00 on 30 June 1967. Some of this reduction can be attributed to the fact that the value of items in the WRSK is no longer included in the total value of aircraft spares in stock. However, all of our air technicians who are concerned with computation of stock levels, requisitioning, storage and distribution of aircraft spares can be extremely proud of this record.

A chart covering activities of this supply for the past three years follows.

NEW MEXICO NATIONAL GUARD MILITARY MUSEUM

Both the Office of the Chief of Military History and the National Guard Bureau have recognized the New Mexico National Guard Museum as a Military Museum in accordance with Army Regulations 870-5. Insofar as conditions and circumstances permit, the Museum is operated within this regulation.

A continued and steady growth has been experienced by the Museum since its opening in 1964. There is presently 1,505 catalogued items on display and recorded on DA Form 2609. Of the number of items on display, not more than five percent are on loan, while the remainder are an outright gift to the Museum.

It is worthy to note that uniforms and equipment have been donated by donors that belonged to illustrious former members of the New Mexico National Guard. Among these are Lieutenant General Charles G. Sage, Lieutenant Colonel Charles De Bremmond and Brigadier General A. P. Tarkington. The personal flags of Brigadier General John P. McFarland, together with all of his medals are now on display.

A steady flow of visitors come to view the displays. The erection of a sign in the median in front of the administration building has been largely responsible for directing tourists to the Museum. Approximately two hundred and fifty Cub Scouts have visited the Museum accompanied by their den mothers. Tours of Boy Scouts and children from the Headstart Program have made visits during this reporting period. High ranking military officials from the Pentagon, Headquarters Fourth Army and from adjacent states have been registered in the visitor's register and given conducted tours, as have visitors from many states and foreign countries as far away as Nigeria and Japan.

The construction of a new masonry type building would allow the Military Americana items to be regrouped into display, depicting specific areas. This would greatly improve the value of the displays and would place items into a grouping of a given era, instead of the present style of display.

The Museum is housed in Building T-185 of the New Mexico National Guard Military Complex. The outdoor display is located across the street of the Museum building, while the indoor displays are located in both wings of the building. The Museum is open to the public Monday through Friday, from 0900 to 1100 and from 1300 to 1600. No admission fee is charged, as it is felt that everyone should be able to see the displays without being obligated to pay anything for the privilege.

PART I - THE STATE MAINTENANCE OFFICER

The State Maintenance Officer (SMO) is in charge of the maintenance program in the State and is a staff officer on the Staff of the State Adjutant General. Vehicles and equipment are widely distributed throughout the State among Army National Guard units. Repair of vehicles and equipment is accomplished through seven Organization Maintenance Shops, one Combined Support Maintenance Shop and one Field Training Equipment Concentration Site. The SMO is responsible for the efficient repair and maintenance of a wide variety of equipment in any of the above locations. He is also responsible for the proper inspection, maintenance and repair of Army aircraft authorized the State. He develops current and long range plans to insure that adequate facilities, personnel, tools, and equipment are provided to insure the preservation, segregation, classification, as to serviceability, repair and maintenance of equipment throughout the State. He schedules and supervises the necessary inspections to insure the efficient operation of all facilities involving the repair, maintenance, and storage of equipment, the stocking of necessary parts and supplies, and the employment, assignment, and utilization of personnel. The SMO advises the State Adjutant General and the USP&FO in all matters pertaining to maintenance-parts, supply, assignment of personnel, personnel requirements, and allied fiscal matters. He supervises the necessary compilation of reports in connection with personnel, equipment, parts, supply, maintenance, and repair of equipment; initiates and answers correspondence involving the program.

PART II - MISSION OF THE STATE MAINTENANCE OFFICER

Under the general direction of the State Adjutant General, the SMO is technically responsible for the establishment and efficient operation of a State-wide maintenance program. the STATE MAINTENANCE FACILITY AND SUPPORT PLAN, AGONM Regulations Number 750-1, is his established maintenance doctrine. Information and instructions of a technical nature not covered in the aforementioned plan are disseminated in the form of AGO Circulars and Maintenance Information Letters.

During the reporting period the SMO has accomplished or has participated in the following: Performed the annual Command Maintenance Management Inspections, accomplished follow-up inspections of unsatisfactory categories resulting from the Command Maintenance Management Inspections, performed semiannual Inspections of all Maintenance Activities, worked with the Technician Personnel Officer on authorization and distribution of maintenance technicians, worked with the USP&FO on redistribution of equipment, established Parts Load Lists of repair parts for all units of the NMARNG, worked with the U. S. Army Reserve in renegotiating a Maintenance Agreement (Z4-A43500-0003-7) for the National Guard to take care of the Support Maintenance of USAR equipment in two towns in the State.

Worked with the USP&FO and the Director of Maintenance of Ft Bliss, Texas, in negotiating a Maintenance Agreement (Z4-A43500-0004-7) for the National Guard to provide twenty-nine maintenance technicians for the purpose of support of maintenance on 414 - GUN, self-propelled, full track, twin 40MM weapons of newly activated Automatic Weapons Battalions stationed at Ft Bliss, Texas, presented a Commanders Preventative Maintenance course of instruction to all NMARNG Commanders, presented a Materiel Readiness course of instruction to all NMARNG Commanders, attended Fourth Army Area National Guard Conferences at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and Santa Fe, New Mexico, attended a State Maintenance Officers conference in Kansas City, Missouri, and represented the Fourth United States Army Area as a member of a committee responsible for rewriting Command Maintenance Management Inspection Standards at the National Guard Bureau.

The State Maintenance Officer received "SUPERIOR" ratings for Fiscal Years 1965, 1966, and 1967, for Annual Inspector General Inspection, conducted by Fourth United States Army.

PART III - ORGANIZATION

Combined Support Maintenance Shop

The Combined Support Maintenance Shop (CSMS) is located in Building Number 3, NMARNG Complex, Santa Fe, New Mexico. The State Maintenance Officer is responsible for the efficient organization and operation of the CSMS. Normally, all support maintenance of Army National Guard equipment within the State is accomplished by this facility. Maintenance standards established by the Department of the Army are adhered to. The CSMS furnishes contact repair team support to Organizational Maintenance Shops and units, and provides inspection teams as directed by the Adjutant General. The CSMS also operates a State Transportation Motor Pool and a Controlled Cannibalization Point.

To accomplish the Field Maintenance mission, the CSMS is composed of thirty-five technicians broken down into sections as follows: Shop Office - 8, Automotive Section - 14, Armament Section - 2, Electronics Section - 5, Service Section - 4, and Army Aviation Maintenance Section - 2.

Equipment supported by the CSMS includes: 1186 wheeled vehicles and trailers, 50 tracked vehicles and materiels handling equipment, 144 generator and power units, 97 artillery pieces, 6905 small arms and components, 1143 instruments, 12 radar and operation centers, 1670 radios and telephones, one light aircraft and one helicopter.

During the reporting period the following National Guard equipment items with parts and labor costs, as indicated, were processed by the CSMS:

CATEGORY	ITEMS	PARTS	LABOR
Automotive & Powered Equip	2,157	$103,300	$102,730

Organizational Maintenance Shop and Administrative Storage Compound Sites (OMS & ASC).

The mission of the OMS and ASC Sites is as follows: The performance of all organizational maintenance beyond the capabilities of using personnel; to maintain an administrative storage compound for unit vehicles and materiel not currently required for training; to maintain minimum stocks of fast-moving parts and supplies; to furnish a base for the operation of support maintenance contact repair and inspection teams; to furnish contact teams for the performance of organizational maintenance and inspections, when this procedure would be more economical than scheduling equipment into the OMS and to evacuate equipment to the CSMS.

There are presently 7 OMS & ASC's for the New Mexico Army National Guard in operation and are located as follows: OMS & ASC #1 - 1st AW Bn, Artesia, New Mexico, OMS & ASC #2 - 2nd AW Bn, Deming, New Mexico; OMS & ASC #3 - 3rd AW Bn, Belen New Mexico, OMS & ASC #4 - 4th AW Bn, Santa Fe, New Mexico; OMS & ASC #5 - 5th AW Bn, Roswell, New Mexico; OMS & ASC #6 - 6th AW Bn, Tucumcari, New Mexico; OMS & ASC #7 - 515th Ord Bn, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The remodeling of existing facilities and the construction of new shop buildings has been completed on all of the 7 installations.

Command Maintenance Management Inspections

The annual Command Maintenance Management Inspection (CMMI) of all New Mexico Army National Guard Units and Maintenance Facilities was conducted by the State Maintenance Officer. During the reporting period, three itineraries were published which established dates of 23 July - 26 August 1965, and 31 January - 31 March 1966, 9 January - 11 April 1967, for the inspections. An inspection team under the direction of the State Maintenance Officer and composed of 14 members from the Combined Support Maintenance Shop conducted the inspections as scheduled.

The inspections resulted in all units of the NMARNG receiving an over-all SATISFACTORY grades. Grades established by the Department of the Army in the performance of Command Maintenance Management Inspections are either satisfactory or unsatisfactory. 6 units received unsatisfactory categories.

Follow-up Inspections

The State Maintenance Officer is required to perform a follow-up inspection of categories found unsatisfactory on the CMMI. The follow-up inspection for the CMMI's were performed on September 1965, April 1966, and May 1967. It was noted that all units involved had taken necessary corrective action on the unsatisfactory categories.

PART V - MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

The ultimate goal of the Maintenance Program in the State is to have all equipment in efficient, safe operating condition at all times. This point has been reached each year for the Annual Field Training of the New Mexico Army National Guard.

PART I - MISSION OF THE NEW MEXICO ARMY NATIONAL GUARD.

The mission of the New Mexico Army National Guard is to provide the Army with adequately organized, trained and equipped units which, in case of national emergency or war will be available for mobilization in accordance with the deployment schedules and with the capabilities of participating in combat operations in support of the Army's war plan. The mission may include the defense of critical areas of the United States against attack and to be so trained that a civil defense mission may be accomplished.

The responsibility for the accomplishment of the above mission is delegated to the Adjutant General by the Governor of New Mexico.

PART II - TRAINING OBJECTIVES.

The training objectives are to train individuals of the New Mexico Army National Guard in the fundamentals of combat readiness and to train units to the maximum degree of proficiency, so that a minimum of post mobilization training will be required. The meeting of these objectives require a minimum of 280 hours annually of actual training hours. This figure does not include travel time to and from armories and training sites.

PART III - TRAINING OF THE NEW MEXICO ARMY NATIONAL GUARD.

Armory Drills

The Army National Guard is authorized 48 paid drill assemblies for each fiscal year. Historically, these drills have been accomplished in the past by 48 weekly assemblies of two hour duration with a annual total of 96 hours of training at the individual unit armories. This type of training, because of the short duration of the weekly drills, was confined to classroom and gun park training on a unit level. Since 1964, however, the traditional 2-hour weekly drills have gradually been supplanted by 4-hour unit training assemblies. Traditional methods have been further changed with the authorization of multiple assemblies. The NMARNG now discharges its drill requirements by the accomplishment of 4 4-hour drill assemblies (16 hours) on one weekend per month. This allows the individual units much more flexibility in the scheduling of training. Units can now conduct small unit operations, small arms firing, tactical field exercises, rifle matches, overnight bivouacs and on-the-job training for unit personnel. The total hours of armory training has been increased from 96 hours annually to 192 hours.

Annual General Inspections.

The high point of armory training is the annual Inspector General visit, when the Inspectors General of the Active Army test the proficiency of the unit in such fields as:

Adherence to prescribed Army training policies and directives.

Alert and mobilization readiness.

Supply administration and maintenance of equipment.

Care and maintenance of weapons, armories, records, vehicles, and equipment.

Personal knowledge, morale, and appearance of individuals.

Leadership qualities of officers and noncommissioned officers.

Quality and quantity of assigned specialists.

Forty-three units (Btry, Company, and Detachment size) and two departments were inspected during the months of April and May in 1965, 1966, and 1967.

Annual Active Duty for Training

During the summer months of each year the NMARNG conducts annual field training (summer camp). Normally, this training is conducted at Fort Bliss, Texas and consists of a minimum of 13 days at the training site plus a minimum of 2 days travel between home station and the training site. This provides for a minimum of 88 hours actual training.

The summer of 1965 saw a total of 3200 officers and enlisted men of the NMARNG attending annual field training at Ft Lee, Virginia, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Ft Stewart, Georgia, Ft Bliss, Texas and Corpus Christi, Texas.

Some 3,000 Guardsmen accomplished their 1966 annual field training requirements in Santa Fe, New Mexico, Roswell, New Mexico, Ft Greeley, Alaska, and Ft Bliss, Texas.

During the summer of 1967 the majority of 3,300 officers and enlisted men performed their annual field training at Ft Bliss, Texas with small contingents fulfilling their training requirements at Ft MacArthur, California, Santa Fe, New Mexico and Corpus Christi, Texas.

PART IV - SCHOOLS

Service Schools

The educational standards required by the National Guard Bureau and other commands of the Army, make the school program the most active year-round activity. During the period 1 July 1964 - 30 June 1967 150 officers and 116 enlisted men furthered their education by attending Regular Army service schools. These service schools, conducted by the Active Army, ranged in length from two months to nine months duration.

Army Reserve School

Many Guardsmen are not able to take the necessary time from their civilian occupation to attend the Regular Army Service Schools. One source of educational training for these officers and enlisted men is the Army Reserve School. This school, located in Albuquerque, has branches in various locations within the State. It can provide instruction on practically any military occupational specialty.

Army Extension Schools

The Army Reserve School is not authorized to provide courses of instruction which will qualify officers for promotion. This type of branch qualification for those officers who cannot attend the Regular Army Service Schools can be obtained thru enrollment in appropriate extension courses. This is an accomplishment to each individual enrollee since this type of schooling is done by the individual, in his spare time, without reimbursement. During the reporting period there have been a total of 938 New Mexico Guardsmen enrolled in the Army Extension Schools.

Army Area Schools

Occasional requirements arise for schools that can better be conducted by members of the NMARNG. Schools of this type are, usually, non-repetitious in nature and can be presented in a short time. These are the Fourth United States Army Area Schools and are financed by National Guard funds, with the approval of Commanding General, Fourth United States Army. During the reporting period such schools have been attended by 141 officers and 99 enlisted men for a total of 240 students.

PART V - RESERVE ENLISTMENT PROGRAM (ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING).

The Reserve Enlistment Program (Six-Months Active Duty for Training with the Regular Army) continues to be the most important phase of training for new recruits. During July, 1964 to June, 1967, 1656 new trainees attended this program for a record input for the New Mexico Army National Guard. When an enlisted man returns to his unit from this training, he is not trained just as a basic soldier; he has also received advanced individual training, and is ready to fit into the unit training program.

PART VI - NATIONAL AND STATE RIFLE MATCHES

After competing in the New Mexico State Championship Match at Capitan in July, 1965, the Rifle Team traveled to Camp Perry, Ohio to participate in the National Matches. Members of the team won sixteen medals of which the most outstanding one was the distinguished leg medal won by Sgt Gilbert O. Juarez of Deming. Other honors won by New Mexico Guardsmen included placing two men, Cadet Emilio A. Pena and Cpt Wade R. Hedgecocke, on the All National Guard Rifle Squad. Members of the 1965 New Mexico National Guard squad were:

RANK	NAME	UNIT
Cpt	Hedgecocke, Wade R.	HHB, 200th Arty Gp, Roswell, New Mex.
Cpt	Nichols, Charles F.	HHB, 5th AW Bn (SP) Clovis, New Mex

SGT	Juarez, Gilbert O.	Btry D, 2nd AW Bn Deming, New Mex
Cadet	Pena, Emilio A.	Btry D, 2nd AW Bn Deming, New Mex

After the Nationals the team returned to New Mexico. In October 1965 the "Try Out" Match for 1966 was conducted at Ruidoso, and a fourteen man team was selected to represent New Mexico for the coming year. The shooting year 1966 was a vintage year for the New Mexico National Guard Rifle Team. In April an eight man team was sent to the Army Area Match at Camp Bullis,

Texas, and in May a four man team fired in, and won, the Reserve Championship at the Far Southwestern Regional Matches in El Paso, Texas. In July the Guard Team outshot twenty other four man teams to win the New Mexico State Championship and the Governor's Trophy. Two members of the squad teamed up to win the Two Man Team State Championships. During the summer of 1966 New Mexico was represented by Guard Riflemen at four different regionals, two state championships, an Army Area, and six different invitational matches. The membership of the team decreased during the year as three members of the team went on active duty, one withdrew from the Guard, one went to the Cold Weather School in Alaska, and one member of the squad was asked not to participate by his employer. Two new faces were present on the seven man squad when they reported to Camp Perry for the Nationals, they were SSG Elmer G. Nelson, HHB, 6th AW Bn, Tucumcari, New Mexico, and SSG Julio Chavez, Btry A, 1st AW Bn, Alamogordo, New Mexico. At the National Matches the members of the team did exceptionally well in the National Trophy Individual Match where they won two gold medals and one bronze medal. Second Lieutenant Emilio Pena took 2nd place in the nation in National Guard Category and CPT Hedgecoke was third. Their scores of 248-21V and 248-16V were the highest scores ever recorded in the National Matches by New Mexico Guardsmen. Second Lieutenant Armijo won a leg on his Distinguished Marksmanship Badge (the most coveted award given a rifleman). The team had distinguished itself at the National Matches, not only by its shooting ability, but also by its teaching ability. Five of the team members had acted as assistant instructors in the Small Arms Firing School. The members of the New Mexico National Guard Team were fine representatives for the state. They were always on time, in the proper uniform and had prepared for their instruction. The state purchased new campaign hats and new shooting jackets for the members of the team. This gave the team a uniform appearance and added to the esprit de corps.

The "Try Out" Match for the 1967 season was not held until April. SSG Anthony J. Welker Jr., of Btry C, 4th AW Bn, Farmington, New Mexico, won this match. The following twenty men were selected for the squad with the understanding that the team would be cut to twelve men before the National Matches.

Fourteen men were selected to represent New Mexico at the Fourth Army Matches at Camp Bullis. The team was represented at the Regional Match at Dona Ana by three four-man teams and at the State Match at Capitan by two four-man teams. Two members of the squad were selected for the All National Guard Rifle Team. These members attended a marksmanship training school in Phoenix in April and were selected to represent the Guard at matches all over the United States. Lt Pena and Cpt Hedgecocke, while competing with the All-Guard Team, shot in matches from Fort Benning, Georgia to Portland, Oregon; from Phoenix, Arizona to Little Rock, Arkansas. In the five matches they competed in as members of the All-Guard Team, they won medals in everyone. Cpt Hedgecocke set two National records, one for twenty shots standing, and one for an aggregate of scores fired at 200, 300, and 600 yards. In 1967 the New Mexico Guard had personnel participate in four regionals, five invitationals, and two state championships. Three members of the team are now distinguished riflemen.

PART VII - NEW MEXICO ARMY NATIONAL GUARD MILITARY ACADEMY.

The New Mexico Army National Guard Military Academy (the State Officer Candidate School) was established in 1958 to select outstanding enlisted personnel of the New Mexico Army National Guard and develop within them the characteristics of leadership, command ability, and tactical proficiency that is required of a commissioned officer.

The Academy is located at the National Guard Complex in Santa Fe. The program of instruction is distributed to the Academy by the United States Army Infantry School, Ft Benning, Georgia, and follows the same line as that given at the Regular Army Officer Candidate School at Ft Benning, placing emphasis on leadership, tactics, and weapons. 248 hours are required for graduation; 322 are presented to NMARNGMA Cadets.

Applicants for the OCS are selected by the Academic Board in May each year, after rigid screening by battalion boards. Applicants who are accepted as cadets begin their course of instruction at Annual Field Training in June. After this two week training period, the cadets meet at the Academy in Santa Fe on the 3rd weekend of each month for two days instructions. During the year, the cadets are constantly observed and evaluated on their progress, both academically and in the development of leadership potential. Cadets who complete the year's instruction are commissioned at the end of their Annual Field Training.

The NMARNG OCS is operated by the Commandant, three Tactical Officers and an Administrative Assistant. Cadet leaders are appointed from the Students. The Staff and Instructors for the Academy are carefully selected, experienced senior officers of the New Mexico Army National Guard plus a few select officers from the State Advisor Group.

Since establishment of the Academy, nine classes have graduated for a total gain of 219 new officers as shown below:
